Verbal Description

Pierced ladle censer - part of a rim and base with a handle scar. There are two complete holes and 3 partial pierced holes punched from the interior to the exterior. The maximum diameter of the pierces is 1.0 cm and the min. is .5 cm. One hole is located in the wall while the others are in the base.

The firing core is grayish-black and takes up most of the fragment. There are three distinct fire clouds. One near the rim, one near a pierce in the base and the last on the left edge. In the finishing there is some evidence of wiping. No decoration, slip or paint.
